

forums at new URL

Contributed by Michael Felt

I am in the slow process of updating the rootvg site and I am starting with the forums .

For the google hits - I am leaving this forum in place for now, but I am not planning on moving the content again.

The other big change is that I am breaking the bridge between the joomla part and the forums, so some search links may not be working.

Please accept my apologies for any inconveniences as we make these moves.